Grammarly

A free extension for Chrome and Microsoft Office Add-in that finds significantly more errors than a built-in spell checker.

Any possible errors are automatically underlined. Simply hover over the underlined word to see the issue, and a possible solution.

For pages that don't work with the extension, click on the icon, then "New Document." The editor will open in a new tab, where, you can paste your copy to check for errors.

Grammarly also has an Add-in for Microsoft Office, to quickly check your your offline documentation.

WordCounter.net

Counts your words but also shows the number of sentences, the average number of words per sentence, and displays the 10 words most frequently used in the text (aka Keyword Density).

Keyword density can be a big help with Search Engine Optimization, and it can also help you see at a glance if you use certain words repetitively.

PaperRater

A free tool that quickly analyzes your writing and gives automated feedback and suggestions. However, PaperRater really comes in handy because of its plagiarism checker.

Sometimes certain phrases are so common in an industry that they can be mistaken for plagiarism. This, of course, is something you want to avoid with SEO, even if it's clear coincidence.
